Senate Group Approves Bill to Limit Inspection of FBI Files

By United Press
The Senate Judiciary Committee approved quickly and unanimously today a bill to limit the right of criminal defendants to inspect FBI files.

The measure, rushed to the Senate for possible passage this week, grew out of the recent Supreme Court decision that the government in certain criminal cases must make available to defendants FBI reports supplied by informers whom the government calls as witnesses against them.

Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell Jr. said the bill was necessary to prevent wrecking law enforcement by too-strict interpretation of the ruling.

It would let federal judges examine FBI files and submit to defendants only such material as is relevant to a particular case. If the government balked at producing the files, the judge could strike out the witnesses' testimony or declare a mistrial.

Other congressional news:
Security: Maj. Gen. Guy S. Meley, chief information officer for the Army, told a House subcommittee he is not acquainted with a single case where a newsman has "stolen or purloined" secret military information. Loyd Wright, chairman of the special commission on government security, has said there are "many instances" where newsmen have aided the enemy by publishing secret data.

Foreign Aid: The House Foreign Affairs Committee reversed itself and approved a full three-year authorization for Eisenhower's new foreign development loan fund. It had voted Friday to limit the fund to one year. The committee, however, trimmed 500 million dollars from the two billion dollars proposed for the three-year program.

Money: The House passed and sent to the Senate legislation to keep all government agencies in business even though some of them have not received funds to operate during the new fiscal year that began today.

Inflation: Treasury Secretary George M. Humphrey told the Senate Finance Committee in his eighth day of testimony that the $6-a-ton price increase for steel will push costs up on many items. He said it would boost costs "pretty well over a very large area of the economy."

New Speed Limit Law In Effect

SPRINGFIELD (UP)—Ease up on your gas pedal. Illinois' new speed limit law setting a maximum of 65 miles an hour for automobiles on state highways went into effect today.

The new law, key measure in Gov. William G. Stratton's highway safety program, also sets limits of 60 miles an hour for buses, 55 miles for trucks under four tons and 50 miles for trucks over four tons.

State Police Chief William H. Morris has said motorists will be given a "reasonable" length of time to adjust to the new speed limit, before there is an enforcement crackdown. He has ordered his district officers to have warning tickets issued during the brief adjustment period.

The new law replaces the old speed law which simply required motorists to drive at a "reasonable and proper" speed without fixing any limits.

Council Urges Extra Care for Holiday Driving

CHICAGO (UP)—The National Safety Council today warned the "cold figures" indicate that 535 persons will be killed during the long Fourth of July holiday weekend.

However, the council said at least 70 lives can be saved if motorists drive as sensible during the Independence Day period as they did during the Memorial Day holiday.

Ned H. Dearborn, council president, said if drivers can repeat their safe driving record over the Fourth, "the holiday traffic deaths can be held to 465 or fewer."

"But," Dearborn added, "the cold figures indicate that unless extra holiday hazards, the holiday traffic jam will bring death to 535 persons in the 102-hour period from 6 p. m. Wednesday to midnight Sunday."

'Hard Luck' Cop

Prisoner Kills Rookie Policeman with Officer's Own Gun, Then is Slain

CHICAGO (UP)—A prisoner shot and killed a "hard luck" rookie policeman with the officer's own revolver in a gun duel at police headquarters here. The dead man's wounded partner killed the assailant.

The battle broke out Sunday while the officers were booking the prisoner at the 11th floor lockup of the central police building.

The dead policeman, Michael Lukaszewski, 24, was writing out an arrest slip when the prisoner, Lavern Jamieson, 32, lunged for his gun.

Jamieson shot Lukaszewski in the head. The officer, who had been on the force less than two years, died hours later at St. Luke's hospital.

Lukaszewski's widow, Judy, 20, said her husband had always wanted to be a policeman.

"That was his dream, always," she sobbed. The two had been married only last January.

Lukaszewski's partner, Anthony Concaldi, 34, tried to wrest the

gun from Jamieson and was shot in the arm.

Despite his wound, Concaldi drew his revolver and emptied five shots into Jamieson as the prisoner tried to flee down the jail corridor. Other prisoners in the lockup watched the drama in stunned silence.

Jamieson, who had a record of three previous arrests, was seized earlier in an alley behind a hotel where he lived. He was charged with disorderly conduct.

Concaldi said Jamieson was wielding a bag of bricks and threatening to beat up another man. Authorities said Jamieson was registered at the hotel as "Lamar Simmons" and worked as a laborer.

Lukaszewski's father - in - law, Kenneth Gallagher, a fireman, said the young officer was a "hard luck" policeman. Gallagher said last winter, Lukaszewski was hit by a car while picking up prisoners on a city street. He was hospitalized for 10 days then.

White County Bridge Group Given To Aug. 15 to Answer Federal Suit

DANVILLE, Ill. (UP)—Members of the White County, Ill., Bridge Commission and administrators for the estates of two deceased members have been given until Aug. 15 to answer a federal suit seeking recovery of $69,101 in commission funds.

The suit filed in Federal District Court here names as defendants Roy Clippinger, publisher of the Carmi Times; The Carmi

Times Publishing Co.; J. Madison Pomeroy and Ulys Pyle, bridge commissioners; and the administrators of the estates of Julius C. Kern and Jennings Marlin, deceased former members of the commission.

Asst. U. S. Atty. Charles Young said the suit, filed in Federal District Court here, was based on a congressional investigation of the bridge commission's management and a report by the Federal Accounting Office.

The suit charges the commission members improperly diverted funds of the toll bridge and accuses them of "misfeasance" in office.

The bridge spans the Wabash River between White County and New Harmony, Ind. It was built in 1930 and turned over to the commission by Congress in 1941. Clippinger is a former Republican congressman.

The bridge was turned over to the commission with the understanding that it would be operated as a toll bridge until the bonds issued to build the bridge were paid off.

Then the bridge was to be turned over to the state of Illinois and Indiana as a toll-free bridge.

However, in 1955 the two states refused to take over the bridge because of maintenance and repair obligations. At that time tolls on the bridge were cut in half.

The suit contends one of the reasons the two states did not take title to the bridge was that some of the funds diverted by the commission should have been used for maintenance of the bridge which was allowed to deteriorate.

He predicted a revival by the federal government of an industrial dispersal program initiated by the Truman administration and suspended during the Korean War. Jack Lewis of Anna told the board 60 to 70 per cent of advance tickets to the Hambletonian at the Du Quoin State Fair Aug. 27 have been sold out of state.

He disclosed SII plans for an exhibition booth at the fair to advertise southern Illinois to out-of-state visitors.

M. J. Bozarth, chairman of the SII membership committee, in an appeal for wider area cooperation and increased membership, called for a drive for federal approval of area water projects. He proposed that the drive tie three major projects—Rend Lake, Big Muddy Canalization and the Saline River project—in a single effort.

Dr. William J. Tudor of SIU's area services department, reported on 14 General Assembly bills affecting the school.

He criticized failure of a bill to allow SIU to set up an engineering school.

Jack Morris to Open Law Office At Eldorado

Atty. Jack C. Morris of Eldorado resigned as Assistant United States district attorney, effective today, to enter the private practice of law, with offices at 1315 Locust street in Eldorado.

Morris, 31 years old, has served as an assistant U. S. attorney in the Eastern district of Illinois since October, 1954.

The St. Louis Globe-Democrat yesterday carried a front page story, with Morris' picture, which took up his work on indictments against Frank (Buster) Wortman and his chief lieutenants by the East St. Louis federal grand jury.

Morris, in the story, predicted that the indictments would be returned before the jury's term expires next January. It related that Morris declared his resignation would not affect the grand jury inquiry into Wortman's activities.

"The investigation to date has brought out a foundation of evidence to support indictments," Morris declared.

Morris has played a key role in directing the year-long grand jury investigation into Wortman's tangled affairs and St. Clair-Madison county gambling, the Globe-Democrat stated.

A graduate of Columbia University and George Washington University School of Law, Washington, D. C., Morris served with the Navy in World War II and as a Marine captain in the Korean War.

Disrupts Radio, TV

Solar Eruption Kicks Off IGY, International Geophysical Year

WASHINGTON (UP)—If your radio acts up today or your television set in Hartford, Conn., picks up a San Diego, Calif., program, don't worry. It's just the universe celebrating the birth of IGY.

It may be a headache to you. But the scientists think it's wonderful. IGY is the abbreviation for International Geophysical Year which officially began at 8 p. m., e. d. t. Sunday night.

During the Year—which actually will run until Dec. 31, 1958—some 10,000 scientists at more than 2,000 stations around the world will undertake the greatest study of the earth and its atmosphere ever conducted.

Greetings from Ike
President Eisenhower issued a special statement wishing IGY scientists of all nations "Godspeed and good luck" in their 18 month endeavors.

The disturbances which might be caused by your radio and television sets result from a huge flare-up in the sun. The solar eruption—one of the greatest ever—set off violent electrical storms Sunday and today in the magnetic field stretching out 10,000 miles from the earth.

A. H. Shapley, vice chairman of the National Academy of Sciences, said the storms also caused a black out of shortwave radio communications in many parts of the world Sunday and today. He said the communications difficulties were easing and should be over by Tuesday.

Planes, Ships Alerted
Aircraft and ships at sea dependent on radio navigation and communication were alerted to take precautionary measures, he said.

Although Shapley regretted the communications trouble, he also was pleased that it came at this time. The flareup occurred two days ago but the effects reached the earth Sunday.

Shapley said "The universe itself cooperated in heralding the beginning" of the Geophysical Year.

The solar eruption, which is big enough to envelop the earth, was first detected by Russian scientists in Moscow and flashed to IGY communications centers all over the world, including the IGY warning agency in Virginia.

Search for More Bodies In Louisiana

246 Hurricane Dead; 20 Others in Weather-Caused Mishaps

By United Press

Turbulent weather pounded the plains and sections of the midwest today, and Hurricane Audrey churned a destructive path through Canada.

The known death toll blamed on Audrey and other violent storms since the hurricane hit Thursday climbed to 266 persons.

The number of dead accounted for in Hurricane Audrey's disastrous blow at the Louisiana coast rose to 246 today. Sheriff Henry Reid, announcing the official figures, said the total now is expected to reach 350 dead.

"We have confirmed that a total of 246 bodies have been recovered," Reid said at a news conference. "Of these, 182 have been processed through Shed 4 at the Lake Charles docks."

"The balance are accounted for in burials on the spot, bodies sent directly to private mortuaries and deaths in hospitals."

Elsewhere, at least 20 persons died in weather-caused mishaps, including a father and his five young children who were killed Sunday when their car veered from a highway and sank into a rain-flooded ditch near Ironton, Mo.

Two other storm drownings were reported in Missouri and Kansas, and flash floods claimed 12 lives in Indiana and Illinois.

The low pressure area that was the heart of Audrey roared through Canada with fresh violence Sunday, leaving at least four persons dead and causing more than one million dollars in damage.

Tornadoes Sunday night touched down near Liberal, Kan., and in southwest of Wichita. No injuries were reported in the twisters.

The tornadoes swirled out of thick storm clouds that deposited more than one inch of rain at Goodland and Hill City, Kan.

The torrential rains sent the Big Blue River to more than 9 feet above flood stage at Kansas City, Mo. Streets were blocked and homes and businesses were inundated Sunday before the river began receding.

Severe thunderstorms were reported from Wichita, Kan., to Ponca City, Okla., during the night, and the area was under a tornado alert until today.

Forecasters said thunderstorms will continue today in the northern and central plains and most sections west of the Rockies except California. Showers also are seen for the Middle Mississippi Valley and the Southeastern states.

Crews on the devastated coast, south of Lake Charles, speeded up their efforts to recover the bodies of the dead still in the swamps and wreckage and to bury or burn the carcasses of thousands of animals and pets.

These were causing a severe health problem, but evidently not too much of a problem to discourage the government from planning to build a big tent city at Cameron—the biggest town on the coast that Audrey hit—to house the homeless.

Since Saturday, crews on the coast had been piling up automobile tires and setting them on fire to burn the carcasses of dead animals.

A spokesman for the Federal Civil Defense Administration says the government plans to build 500 to 1,000 tents right away at Cameron.

Financial Questionnaire

Editorial — BY BRUCE BLOSSAT
If Sen. Harry Byrd of Virginia
can manage to keep politics at a minimum, the Senate Finance Committee's new inquiry into the nation's financial condition could
be one of the most useful congressional investigations in recent history.

To listen to Byrd, that's the way
he wants it. He predicts it will be the most sweeping look at U. S.
finances in 50 years.

The Senator says inflation is the
top problem perplexing the committee. Since 1940 the dollar has lost more than half its old purchasing power.

Byrd is especially concerned that inflation has resumed within the
last year, even though the country is not now engaged in a war
and is not piling up fresh federal deficits.

It would be natural to expect the Finance Committee to inquire,
too, into the whole question of the federal debt. Only from the onset of World War II has the nation
had to contend with so fantastic a burden as now plagues U. S. taxpayers.

Are we to be saddled indefinitely
with a debt in the magnitude of $75 billion dollars or more? Or is there a real prospect that this load,
with its painfully high annual interest charges equal to the entire
budget in the so-called "heavy
spending" depression era, can be
made substantially lighter?

What real savings are possible in
nondefense operations without impairing essential governmental services?

If disarmament or a broad peace
agreement were achieved, how
deep could we cut defense spending and what would the budget look
like then?

What can be said—with calm de-
tachment and without political fer-
vor—about the issue of hard vs.
easy money in its effect on purchasing power and general economic levels?

What measure can be put upon
our steeply graduated federal income tax in terms of its fairness
and its effect upon the initiative
of our productive men and enterprises? Would the economy and the nation benefit more from a less
drastic tax scale?

These would seem to be some
of the questions that any comprehensive survey of the financial condition of the United States must confront sooner or later.

Waging Peace

Norman Cousins, editor of the magazine Saturday Review, told
a graduating class in Vermont the other day that Americans don't
know how to "wage peace."

It's not simply a matter of out-
smarting the Russians, he said.
We must have a clear idea how
peace is created, and this involves
"an understanding of the way relations between nations can be regu-
larized."

What Cousins says may be true
enough. But he might well have added that this is no special short-
coming of Americans. No other people seems particularly equipped at this juncture in history to wage peace.

He implies that waging peace is something that could be readily
taught here and elsewhere, if only
we had the good sense and vision
to do it.

In truth the quest for lasting
peace is a painfully complex and
difficult task in this nuclear age.
What is remarkable, in the light
of America's relative inexperience
at world leadership, is not how little we know of waging peace but
how tirelessly and earnestly we
keep searching for it in spite of the
most discouraging obstacles.

ing machine business in Boston

"Y'Gotta Admit We Never Had It So Good"

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

DREW PEARSON says:
Two Millionaires Tangle Over
Inflation; Henry Morgenthau
Diaries Are Sealed; Southern
Democrats Start Paying Off
On Civil Rights Deal.

WASHINGTON. — Secretary of
the Treasury George Humphrey
made a serious tactical error at
the start of the current inflation
hearings.

Gaylord Freeman of the First National Bank of Chicago was called in for Treasury strategy
conferences on how to combat the Senate investigation. He and Undersecretary Randy Burgess recommended that Humphrey meet
fire with fire, that he blast the senators. Old Treasury hands advised against this, urged Humphrey not to make extravagant claims.

He spurned their advice, sided
with Burgess and Freeman. Freeman then wrote the long-political statement which Humphrey read
into the record claiming the fiscal
moon, the stars, and most of the financial universe for the Eisenhower administration.

This was just what Bible-
pounding Sen. Bob Kerr of Oklahoma and other Democrats were looking for. They have been firing back, picking Humphrey's
statement full of holes ever since.
Most amusing cross-examination in years has been Kerr's
roughing up of Secretary Humphrey. Humphrey, long accustomed to begin saluted to by business tycoons, complains privately
at being cross-examined by a
two-bit millionaire from Oklahoma.

Whether Humphrey or Kerr has
more millions is a debatable
point. Humphrey's wealth is in uranium, iron ore, paint, rayon,
steel and biscuits. Kerr's wealth
is in $100 million worth of oil and gas lands.

The wealth of both men has benefited from tax favors. Humphrey's companies have got tremendous write-offs from Uncle
Sam and those located in foreign countries don't pay taxes in the U. S. A. Kerr likewise has had
healthy benefits through the 27 1-2
per cent oil depletion allowance.

Regardless of who is wealthier,
Kerr and Humphrey have been
going at each other hammer and
tongs—partly because Humphrey's
big business advisers advised him
to lead with his political chin.

IN SMOKE-FILLED ROOMS
The famed Morgenthau diaries
have been declared classified by Senators Eastland of Mississippi
and Jenner of Indiana who run the Senate Internal Security committee. Just why remains a mystery. Senators probed the Mor-genthau diaries to see if they
could find disloyalty by employees who worked for the ex-Secretary
of the Treasury, but their search
was fruitless. Now historians want
to examine the diaries, all on file
at FDR's Hyde Park library, but
the two senators say no. Arthur Schlesinger, the Harvard historian and ghost writer for Adlai Stevenson, did get a look at the diaries but he was lucky. Other historians are banned. . . . Mor-genthau made a note of almost
everything he did from sneezes to
talks with FDR, and his 900 volumes of notes are a historian's
paradise. . . . George Allen, Ike's
golfing friend and business partner in Howard Johnson restaurants, refers to the new undersecretary of state as follows: "Chris Herter is a glass arm pitcher. Ike
was oversold on him." Those inside the State Department, however, say Herter is doing a fine

job. He's a slow starter. But he has increased State Department
morale as never before under Dulles; has brought back staff
conferences for the first time since Dean Acheson's exit. . . . The White House had so much trouble
finding a new chairman of the Federal Communications Commission that it's going to Commissioner Doerfer by default. About 20 people turned down this key
job which hands out million-dollar
TV permits. Retiring Chairman
McConaughy and other GOP
commissioners have plunged the
commission into too much politics. . . . Correction: In connection with the recent report of congressmen who took free trips to
the Dominican Republic and became apologists for Dictator Trujillo, it should be noted that the expenses of Congressman Donald Jackson (R., Calif.) were paid by
the House Foreign Affairs committee, not by Trujillo; and that
the expenses of Congressman Pat
Kearney (R., N. Y.) were paid by Earl Christenberry, proprietor of the Jaragua Hotel, who has close relations with Trujillo. Neither
congressman accepted the proffered
medal from Trujillo.

CIVIL RIGHTS DEAL
Some of the deals made to block
the civil rights bill are now being paid off.

Congressman Howard Smith of Virginia, head of the Southern
bloc, has privately warned Democratic Leader John McCormack
that he will stall for time before
letting new antitrust legislation
out of his House Rules committee
for a vote by the full House.

Smith had secretly promised to
block the pre-merger notification
bill—requiring corporations to notify the Justice Department 60
days before corporate mergers—
if Congressman Miller of New

York and the NAM would try to
water down the civil rights bill.
Congressman Smith is now paying off.

Slow Down on Fourth, Council Warns Motorists

CHICAGO (UP) — The National Safety Council cautioned Fourth of July motorists that 7 out of 10 holiday traffic deaths are attributable
to speed.

In issuing a slowdown warning,
the council cited last year's holiday deaths and said speed was a factor in 71 per cent of the 435
traffic fatalities.

Other critical factors were drinking, night driving, and driving in rural areas.

A hopeful trend was noted by
the council, however, in that the number of deaths were down while
travel was up.

"We hope this trend continues,
and we hope to help it through public awareness of the extra holiday hazards," a spokesman said.

Meanwhile, the council announced that American motorists last
month cut down highway deaths
2 per cent from the same period
last year. City drivers reduced fatalities 6 per cent in May, but
records in the rural areas leveled
the overall average to 2 per cent.

The death toll, 3,110, marked
the sixth consecutive month that motorists logged an unchanged or
better report for the corresponding
month a year ago. In May, 1956,
highway fatalities numbered 3,170.
This year's death toll, 14,360,
was 3 per cent under the 14,730
the council said.

Midway to Be Important in Warning U. S.

By PATRICK J. KILLEN

United Press Staff Correspondent
MIDWAY ISLAND — This
tiny Pacific island is a bird sanctuary with a $40 million military
future.

Often described in the past as a forlorn airstrip surrounded by
gooney birds, military strategists
have designated Midway as the southwest anchor of the Distant
Early Warning line.

Within the next few months,
humpbacked Constellations jammed with a multi-million-dollar
payload of radar equipment will begin flying daily from their Midway base to the Aleutians
and back again. Early warning
protection then will be extended
from eastern Canada, across the continent to Alaska and southward to the North Pacific. It
will practically eliminate the possibility of a successful sneak attack over the North Pole or from Siberia.

Midway now is undergoing an expansion program which makes
its 948 acres of coral sand some of the most valuable real estate in
the world.

A Million Goonies
Currently under construction are
a 10,000-foot jet aircraft runway,
parking facilities for three squad-
rons of the Navy's WV-2 airborne early warning Constellation
planes, a deep water channel capable of handling the largest super-tankers and housing facilities
for 2,800 Navy men and dependents.

The island is located in the middle of the North Pacific, 1,149
miles northwest of Honolulu and
2,792 miles west of San Francisco.
Its main population consists of
more than one million birds ranging from the gooney—a species of
albatross with an unhappy habit
of flying head-on into telephone
poles—to the wedgetailed shear-
water which likes to dig holes.

Practically abandoned after World War II, high speed construction now has left the island
looking as if it just came through the second Battle of Midway. Dilapidated wooden shacks are being pulled down and white coral dust
from giant rock crushers clings to
the stately Australian ironwood
trees which cover about three-
quarters of the island.

"They must have just bombed
this place," a merchant seaman
said recently upon his arrival.

Thinking It Over

By Robert L. Dieffenbacher, D. D.
(Written for NEA Service)

Rubbish is the extraneous material which we throw away. It includes the wrappings from
packages, the empty containers
the old newspapers, worn-out
clothing and household items of
no more value. Many people discard this unwanted material and
keep their homes tidy. Some save
parts of the unwanted items because the parts may be handy in
the future.

A few people save portion of
the rubbish because of sentiment
or because of memories attached
to the use of materials in other
days. Some fewer persons save
just to save. Refusal to discard almost anything has become a habit.

MR. AND MRS. ROY STRUBINGER shown cutting their wedding cake at Metropolis. She is the former Miss Wanda Jean Williams and a former resident of Harrisburg.

Wanda Jean Williams And Roy Strubinger Exchange Vows At Church in Metropolis

Tall white tapers in branched candelabras cast a soft light over a setting of palms, ferns and baskets of white chrysanthemums, that formed the background for the wedding of Miss Wanda Jean Williams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Williams, and Roy Strubinger, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Strubinger of Metropolis. The marriage was solemnized in the First Baptist church of Metropolis at three o'clock, Saturday, June 8.

Rev. Eugene Black, former pastor of the bridegroom, now pastor of the Altagate Methodist church of Marion, performed the double-ring ceremony in the presence of a large gathering of friends and relatives.

Mrs. Mike Hankins, organist, played nuptial music before the ceremony and the traditional processional and recessional wedding marches. Mrs. Lorene Fitch sang several selections.

The bride wore a frock of white swiss batiste, styled with a fitted torso and full skirt. A front panel was fashioned of tiny tucks and lace. Her shoulder-length veil of illusion was secured with a fitted Juliet cap. She carried a white orchid on a white Bible.

She was given in marriage by her father.

Miss Betty Tucker, close friend of the bride, served as her maid of honor and wore a full-skirted dress of white glazed cotton, embroidered and trimmed in pale pink. Her headband was of matching pink flowers and she carried a bouquet of pink carnations.

Eugene Stralmeyer acted as best man.

Paul Karber and Clark Williams were ushers and candlelighters.

The bride's mother wore a lace trimmed pink linen ensemble and white accessories. Her corsage was of white carnations.

The mother of the bridegroom chose a dress of turquoise for her son's wedding and white accessories. She wore a corsage of white carnations.

There was a reception in the lower rooms of the church immediately following the wedding service. The table was overlaid with a white cloth, and held a traditional four-tiered wedding cake, supporting a miniature bride and groom and surrounded with pink and white daisies. Pink and white was used throughout the table and room decorations.

Mrs. Rue Spore was refreshment hostess and Mrs. Pearl Frazier supervised the decorations. Mrs. Linda Monroe served the punch. Miss Priscilla Laird served the cake and Miss Judy Laird kept the guest register.

Following a short wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Strubinger will be at home to their friends at 6500 Irving Park road, Chicago, 34.

The bride is a graduate of M. C. H. S., has completed her freshman year at the University of Illinois, majoring in piano, and is a member of the First Baptist church of Metropolis.

She is the niece of Rex Cantrell of Harrisburg and both of her grandmothers are residents of Galatia. The Williams family are former residents of Harrisburg and Wanda Jean attended school here.

Mr. Strubinger has finished his freshman year at the university, studying pre-veterinary. He is a member of the Powers Methodist church, and a graduate of M. C. H. S.

J. R. Strubinger is farm advisor at Metropolis.

Mrs. Bruce (Bernice) McGuire underwent major surgery at the Lightner hospital this morning.

C. L. Bakers Return From Trip Through West

Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Baker returned from a trip through the Western States, last week. They visited with their son, David Baker, his wife, Phyllis, and their grandson, Davie, in Tucson, Ariz., where David is a student at the University of Arizona Electrical Engineering school.

Points of interest the Bakers visited are White Sands, the Petrified Forest, the Painted Desert, Nogales, Mexico and a Pueblo village in New Mexico. They were gone for about three weeks.

Miss Mabel Mallonee went to Chicago Saturday to visit in the home of her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Roper. During her visit the three will make a trip through the Dells of Wisconsin.

Teen Town Notes

Greetings:

This column is late this month due to the fact there seemed to be all kinds of unfinished business when commencement time came around.

Teen Town has chugged right along on schedule and we had a report that the freshmen and sophomores had a real successful party at the Pent House the night of the Junior-Senior prom. Chaparons for the party were Dr. and Mrs. A. O. Steinborn, Mr. and Mrs. Vic Mitchell, Miss Bernice Patterson, Mr. and Mrs. John Schork, Hal Killebrew, Mr. and Mrs. Eltis Henson, Mrs. Bert Trammel, Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Cothran, Mr. and Mrs. Liensch, and Mrs. Herman Dunn.

Then we have to mention our car-wash money making project. It turned out fine and if there had been a prize for the hardest worker it most certainly would have gone to Mrs. Hill. Lou Murphy would have run a close second. There sure were a lot of sun burned backs, but it was worth it. Maybe we'll do it again.

Mrs. Hill was on vacation a few days and Lou Murphy filled in faithfully. Our Senior board members and Junior board members have had at least two meetings each with good attendance.

The chaparons for May were furnished by the Junior Chamber of Commerce and the Presbyterian Guild took over for June. Thanks to all of you.

H. T. H. S. Junior at Teen Town, "Of course I seemed stupid to Miss Shetak in history; she's a college graduate."

Let me know if you hear any news. Summer gets a little dull and it's hard to always be first with the latest—

So long until next month. I'm off to find the nearest swimming hole.

SYSTEM MAP

TEXAS EASTERN Transmission Corporation Big Inch and Little Inch pipelines system are shown in the above map. A 1,168 mile segment of Little Big Inch pipeline will be removed from natural gas service and will be converted to service as carrier of petroleum products.

Little Big Inch Pipeline to Be Converted to Petroleum Carrier

SHREVEPORT, La. — Texas Eastern Transmission Corporation was authorized today by the Federal Power Commission to remove a 1,168 mile segment of the Little Big Inch pipeline from natural gas service. The company will immediately reconversion the section to service as a common carrier of petroleum products, according to Orville S. Carpenter, president.

The 1,168 mile section of the Little Big Inch scheduled for reconversion extends from Baytown, near Houston, Texas, through southern Illinois to Moundsville, West Virginia, and will connect with a 14-inch pipeline which the company will build from Seymour, Indiana, to Chicago. Completion of this project will establish the first major petroleum products common carrier pipeline link between the Gulf Coast and Mid-Continent refining areas and the fast growing midwestern market area.

The facility will make available new supplies of the full range of clean petroleum products including liquefied petroleum gases to the Midwestern markets from the Gulf Coast and Mid-Continent refining areas and the fast growing midwestern market area.

The reconversion project will begin immediately and is expected to be completed in time for the line to begin operation in September.

Today's ruling by the Federal Power Commission also authorized Texas Eastern to construct substitute natural gas facilities sufficient to handle the gas now being carried through the Little Big Inch. The company plans to spend approximately $5,000,000 to reconstruct and extend the Little Big Inch for the transportation of petroleum products, and approximately $81,000,000 to construct substitute facilities to replace the gas capacity of the Little Big Inch line. Mr. Carpenter said.

The substitute gas facilities will involve construction of 453 miles of 30-inch pipeline loops and addition of 42,300 compressor horsepower primarily along the company's 30-inch Louisiana to connect with company facilities at Beaumont, Texas.

Since their purchase, both lines have been operated by the company in natural gas service. In addition, a 30-inch pipeline was built from Koscusko, Mississippi, to Connellsville, Pennsylvania, and later extended from Koscusko through southern Mississippi and Louisiana to connect with company facilities at Beaumont, Texas.

THE STORY: Nan Stanfield, Dr. Kurt Lillard's fiancée, has just told Dr. Garde Shelton her story of the events that led up to the murder of Ben Laurent. Many people believe Kurt was innocent of the crime.

XIV

The men were beginning to return from the fire, noisy, disheveled and exceedingly full of stories about their bravery, the property saved. They were so noisy that the actual fact of the fire became hilarious.

Spontaneous combustion had developed in the sawdust packed bag of a sander which had that day been used upon a varnished floor. There'd been a deal of smoke, a terrific smell—and no damage beyond smudging of the hardware store. Oh, there was a tear in Dr. Rubie's shorts. He'd caught himself on a nail. And Tom Sandozie had fallen over a hose—a "pipe"—and messed himself up. Drinks were handed around, plates were refilled and the dinner resumed. Garde and Nan sat alone at their table now.

"Well, Valley was only 18. Of course she was ambitious for a career. And she had some writing ability—she used to write little plays for Sunday school programs. She played the newspaper here to give her a job, and the editor urged her to go to journalism school."

"She did well at journalism school—she was clever. And still is. I don't suppose you've had a chance to be with her much. . . . Then, she had this feeling about doctors. She's always hated them, really hated. She dislikes any talk about them, about illness or medicine. Why, she's almost psychotic about it."

"What turned Valley against doctors?" he asked when they were settled. He was thinking that it might explain the breakup of her early romance with Kurt Lillard.

"It was—I think I have the term right—she was conditioned by a childhood trauma."

"Has she been professionally analyzed?"

Nan had tipped her head back and was looking at the stars. "Something Valley said to me once made me think that her editor might have sent her to a psychiatrist."

"He couldn't have got far with her, because of her antipathy for doctors."

"Well, he said it was caused by something that happened at the time of my mother's death. Maybe the whole circumstance hurt her and she fixed on this one thing."

"Attached her animosity to it."

"Yes. Because—well, this is what happened. My mother fell out of a road cart—she was a passionate horsewoman and beautiful. Valley looks like her. Father says. Of course my mother had no business in a road cart at the time, but she did so love horses and she wanted to try a new one which her father had bought for schooling. . . . My mother used to show in the gaited harness classes, you know, and she was very good. Her father's stables—and his farm—were where the Rosses live now."

"Of course all this has been told to me. But it seems that Mother got into the cart that day to try the new horse; a paper blew across the drive and he did something horsey—people call spook. Anyway, he bolted, the cart tipped and Mother was thrown out. Her head was crushed against a stone wall, and—the doctors saved me by doing a Caesarean."

"Valley was eight and an impressionable child. No one realized it at the time, but the supposition is now—Father supposes it, anyway—that Valley saw enough, or heard enough—to believe that the doctors 'hurt' my mother."

Garde was thinking that any child seeing a Caesarian section, with its gaping wound. . . . "You can be glad," he exclaimed, "that Valley fixed her animosity upon the doctors, not upon you."

The party was becoming more mobile. Dishes were being cleared away, a few couples danced to the music from the record player, a few strolled down the path to the water.

"Would you like to dance?" he asked, that being the only thing he could think of to say.

She danced nicely. Patty Copeland's young husband cut in.

Kurt Lillard would belong in this group, had belonged. And Garde was jealous of him, jealous of the man he was, of the things he had, those things all typified for Garde by the visored cap left behind in Kurt's office.

All the men here tonight—nearly all of them—belonged to the yacht club and owned such caps.

Garde Shelton did not.

Once at a staff meeting, Rubie had mentioned Kurt's ability always to say the right thing. "Witty and clever as the deuce, but never to hurt anyone's feelings."

That was not Garde Shelton either, who could be blunt "as the deuce."

er, who could be blunt "as the deuce."

He laughed, and Nan looked up at him, then shook her head back and frowned. "You got a joke?" she asked crossly.

"Not a real one. I was just laughing at myself." Here he was, trying to be Kurt Lillard, and he hadn't a chance. Because—well—because he hadn't.

"I'm glad you can laugh at your self," said Nan morosely. "Because me, I make myself burst in to tears!"

Short Golf Course Built in Rochester

ROCHESTER, N. Y. — (UP) — Golfers who have trouble with their short game or who seldom have time for a regulation round may find the answer to their problems in a new "pitch 'n' putt" course near Rochester.

Mike DeGregory, a former club pro, had the par 27, nine-hole course built with an eye towards helping the fellow with a poor short game.

Each hole—ranging from 44 to 99 yards—is par three with a regular large, bent-grass green. "There's nothing wrong with the average short game that a little homework can't cure," DeGregory said.

National League Batters to Carry 'Big Stick' Into All-Star Game

NEW YORK (AP) — The National League All-Stars, who have clobbered their American League rivals six times in the last seven years, once again will carry "a big stick" into next Tuesday's mid-season classic at St. Louis.

The aggregate batting average of the eight NL starters was .308 following week-end games, while the men who will play at least the first three innings for the AL are hitting at a .293 clip.

In addition, the National League squad is leading their rivals in total hits (663-550), home runs (91-80) and runs-batted-in (334-269).

Here are the individual batting averages of the All-Star Game starters, exclusive of the pitchers who will be selected by managers Casey Stengel of the Yankees and Walt Alton of the Dodgers this week:

Musial, Mays and Aaron were named to the NL starting team by Commissioner Ford Frick after Cincinnati fans "elected" seven members of the Redlegs with a late-hour deluge of votes.

Center fielder Gus Bell and right fielder Wally Post were the starting lineup absentees, even though they were top vote-getters for their respective positions.

Musial was named by Frick because it was originally believed that Redleg George Crowe had won the fans' votes for the first base position.

Robinson wound up as the top vote-getter in the balloting with 745,689 ballots, followed by Bailey with 737,851. In the American League, Williams out-pollled Mantle, 255,969 to 253,010.

For his ninth victory as the Baltimore Orioles downed the Cleveland Indians, 12-3, and Jackie Jensen and Ted Williams homered to lead the Boston Red Sox to a 10-3 triumph over the Detroit Tigers in the other American League games.

The Milwaukee Braves retained their half-game lead in the National League struggle when they beat the Pittsburgh Pirates, 7-4 and 6-5. The Cincinnati Redlegs swept the Philadelphia Phillies, 6-1 and 6-2; the St. Louis Cardinals whipped the New York Giants, 7-1, after a 5-3 defeat and the Brooklyn Dodgers rebounded from a 3-2, 11-inning loss to defeat the Chicago Cubs, 5-1, in other games.

Mathews' Homer Wins
Ed Mathews hit a two-run homer in the 13th inning to give the Braves their sweep after they rallied for five runs in the eighth to win the opener. Hank Aaron homered in each game to bring his season total to 23. Relief pitchers Ernie Johnson and Dave Jolly were the winners.

Brooks Lawrence pitched a six-hitter for his ninth win and fourth in 10 days and then came out of the bullpen to retire the last batter in the second game of the Redlegs' sweep. George Crowe hit his 15th homer for the Redlegs.

Stan Musial, Del Ennis and Hobie Landrith homered and Lindy McDaniel pitched an eight-hitter for the Cardinals after Ruben Gomez became the National League's first 10-game winner with a five-hitter in the opener. Willie Mays paced the Giants' attack in the first game with two triples and a double.

Danny McDevitt pitched a five-hitter to win his third game for the Dodgers after Ernie Banks doubled home Bob Speake in the 11th inning to give the Cubs the opening-game victory. A record total of 27 Dodgers struck out during the double-header, snapping the old mark of 24 for a double-header.

The locals clubbed out 19 hits with Dick Odle leading the way with 4 for 4. Don Stout had 3 for 5 and Miller, Wallace, Romonosky, Dallas and McNew had 2 hits each. Griffiths and Emery picked up the other hits.

Big Bill McNew pitched his second good game in a row as his fast ball was blistering fast and his curve was working to perfection. Don Wallace and Rod Smith made nice running catches for the best fielding plays of the game.

Wednesday night the locals will travel to Mt. Vernon, Ind., for an arc-light contest and Thursday will play the Murphysboro Red Wings there on Riverside park diamond. The locals will leave from the VFW field at 5 p. m. Wednesday for the Mt. Vernon game.

Downstate Fisherman's Guide

Bass Fishing on Upswing at Crab Orchard, Decline at Little Grassy

By Pete Brown

(From reports by the Southern Illinois University Cooperative Fisheries Research Laboratory and the Illinois Department of Conservation).

A few bass have crossed the docks of Crab Orchard Lake Concessionaire Cecil Davis in the past week, sparking small fires of hope here and there that good fishing is not far off.

Water conditions at Crab Orchard are still far from satisfactory, but bass activity appears to be on the upswing. One fisherman landed 12 in two trips, and although none of them went over two and one-half pounds the catch rated lots of dockside attention.

Plugging for bass at Little Grassy went into a steep decline during the week of June 24, but bluegill and crappie fishing picked up. Dave Whiteside, a Wolf Lake angler, nailed a one and one-quarter pound bluegill on a dry fly, one of the largest—if not the largest—ever to come out of the lake. It was a shade over 10 inches long and nearly 11 inches in girth.

Before the sudden slowdown, memorable bass catches were recorded at Grassy. Ed Holton, East St. Louis sporting goods retailer, boated eight, seven and four pounders. Frank Kneeg, of Herrin, caught a seven and one-half pounder and Joe Fedora, Granite City, strung up a six and three-quarter pounder and another at five and one-half pounds.

Others with four to six pound catches were Ralph Vorhees, and Al Peithmann, Carbondale; Biford Dalton, East St. Louis; Bill Butler, Murphysboro; Charles and Fred Oliver, Murphysboro; Well Atley, Belleville; Leon Ory, West Frankfort; and Ken Miller, East St. Louis.

Three artificials have been most effective at Grassy: Bombers, Black Eels, and the Doll Fly, a leadhead-type bait. A Doll Fly-Black Eel combination has also been used to advantage.

Water was still going over the Horseshoe Lake spillway when checked June 23, but good crappie and bluegill angling is expected when the runoff stops.

Catches of bluegill and redear at Lake Murphysboro have thinned out compared to previous weeks. The best catches are being made in the evening, with worms.

The stepped-up pace of bass catches at Lake Murphysboro continues, with a four and a six pounder topping the weight lists. A jug

fisherman picked up a pair of four pound channel cats as well as five others ranging from eight to 11 and one-half pounds.

Bass poppers and artificial red worms have accounted for some fair results at Lake Moses where the largest catch, a five pounder, was notched by Benton's Bill Ray. Crappie fishing has been very good.

Sahara Lake is still in a mild slump and the bluegill taken are running small. The water is clear, and looks good.

Bay Creek, checked June 23 at Grantsburg on Route 146, is muddy. Two fishermen on the scene had caught four yellow bullheads averaging 10 inches.

A few small drum and channel

catfish were being taken from the river near the Golconda locks. Lusk Creek north of Golconda was yielding good bluegill and crappie catches. Water at both locations, when checked June 23, was receding and muddy. Lusk was clearing farther upstream near Eddyville.

The Mississippi River is still high and muddy near Grand Tower, but the Big Muddy north of Grand Tower is in excellent condition. Clear and Hutchins creeks are almost too clear for successful angling.

The Carbondale city reservoir is slowly losing its rich cast of mud, and a few bass-pluggers have scored off the dam. A lure which has proven pretty hot—for the benefit of those wanting to go after the big ones in Carbondale reservoir—is the L and S Panfish Master. For best action, retrieve it at medium-fast speed.

Farmers May Preserve Corn History for Future Allotment Programs

Corn producers who have underplanted their allotment were reminded by Herman Driskell, chairman of the Saline County ASC committee that they may receive credit as planting their full acreage allotment by filing a request with the county office. This will retain the past corn history of the farm for future allotments programs. Mr. Driskell pointed out that the request must be made by filing form MQ-31 with the local on or before August 1, 1957.

Although there is no harm in any corn producer signing this form, it is really of benefit only to those with farms on which the full corn acreage allotments have not been planted.

Farmers generally are being advised of this provision by the reporter at the time of corn measurement, Mr. Driskell said. However, all producers should feel free to

Wheat Acreage Reserve Payments To Be Made Soon

The Saline County ASC office has announced that it will start making 1957 wheat acreage reserve payments on July 15.

Herman Driskell, chairman of the county ASC committee, said that payments will generally be made by mail as soon as possible after performance in the field and in the office is completed on individual agreements. This means that the first farms to receive payments will be those where crops were far enough advanced to permit early checking, where no excess allotment crop acreage was found, and where all requirements as to location and use of the soil bank acres had been fully met.

Making payments will continue as rapidly as performance records can be completed and farmers make any adjustments which are necessary to meet the terms of their agreements.

Payments on corn acreage reserve agreements will not start until a later date. No date has been set for making conservation reserve payments, but as soon as compliance reports can be completed the date will be announced.

year's suspension of rank, a $1,500 fine and a stern reprimand in addition to losing the right to work on Army top secret developments.

However, the square-jawed colonel said he will work to regain top secret clearance so he again can work with Army missiles. "I'll get it back," he said.

Senate Group Approves Bill to Limit Inspection of FBI Files

By United Press
The Senate Judiciary Committee approved quickly and unanimously today a bill to limit the right of criminal defendants to inspect FBI files.

The measure, rushed to the Senate for possible passage this week, grew out of the recent Supreme Court decision that the government in certain criminal cases must make available to defendants FBI reports supplied by informers whom the government calls as witnesses against them.

Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell Jr. said the bill was necessary to prevent law enforcement by too strict interpretation of the ruling.

It would let federal judges examine FBI files and submit to defendants only such material as is relevant to a particular case. If the government balked at producing the files, the judge could strike out the witnesses' testimony or declare a mistrial.

Other congressional news:
Security: Maj. Gen. Guy S. Meigs, chief information officer for the Army, told a House subcommittee he is not acquainted with a single case where a newsmen has "stolen or purloined" secret military information. Loyd Wright, chairman of the special commission on government security, has said there are "many instances" where newsmen have aided the enemy by publishing secret data.

Foreign Aid: The House Foreign Affairs Committee reversed itself and approved a full three-year authorization for Eisenhower's new foreign development loan fund. It had voted Friday to limit the fund to one year. The committee, however, trimmed 500 million dollars from the two billion dollars proposed for the three-year program.

Money: The House passed and sent to the Senate legislation to keep all government agencies in business even though some of them have not received funds to operate during the new fiscal year that began today.

Inflation: Treasury Secretary George M. Humphrey told the Senate Finance Committee in his eighth day of testimony that the $6-a-ton price increase for steel will push costs up on many items. He said it would boost costs "pretty well over a very large area of the economy."

New Speed Limit Law In Effect

SPRINGFIELD (UP)—Ease up on your gas pedal, Illinois' new speed limit law setting a maximum of 65 miles an hour for automobiles on state highways went into effect today.

The new law, key measure in Gov. William G. Stratton's highway safety program, also sets limits of 60 miles an hour for buses, 55 miles for trucks under four tons and 50 miles for trucks over four tons.

State Police Chief William H. Morris has said motorists will be given a "reasonable" length of time to adjust to the new speed limit, before there is an enforcement crackdown. He has ordered his district officers to have warning tickets issued during the brief adjustment period.

The new law replaces the old speed law which simply required motorists to drive at a "reasonable and proper" speed without fixing any limits.

Council Urges Extra Care for Holiday Driving

CHICAGO (UP)—The National Safety Council today warned the "cold figures" indicate that 535 persons will be killed during the long Fourth of July holiday weekend.

However, the council said at least 70 lives can be saved if motorists drive as sensible during the Independence Day period as they did during the Memorial Day holiday.

Ned H. Dearborn, council president, said if drivers can repeat their safe driving record over the Fourth, "the holiday traffic deaths can be held to 465 or fewer."

"But," Dearborn added, "the cold figures indicate that unless extra care is used to meet the extra holiday hazards, the holiday traffic jam will bring death to 535 persons in the 102-hour period from 6 p. m. Wednesday to midnight Sunday."

'Hard Luck' Cop

Prisoner Kills Rookie Policeman with Officer's Own Gun, Then is Slain

CHICAGO (UP)—A prisoner shot and killed a "hard luck" rookie policeman with the officer's own revolver in a gun duel at police headquarters here. The dead man's wounded partner killed the assailant.

The battle broke out Sunday while the officers were booking the prisoner at the 11th floor lockup of the central police building.

The dead policeman, Michael Lukaszewski, 24, was writing out an arrest slip when the prisoner, Lavern Jamieson, 32, lunged for his gun.

Jamieson shot Lukaszewski in the head. The officer, who had been on the force less than two years, died hours later at St. Luke's hospital.

Lukaszewski's widow, Judy, 20, said her husband had always wanted to be a policeman.

"That was his dream, always," she sobbed. The two had been married only last January.

Lukaszewski's partner, Anthony Concaldi, 34, tried to wrest the

gun from Jamieson and was shot in the arm.

Despite his wound, Concaldi drew his revolver and emptied five shots into Jamieson as the prisoner tried to flee down the jail corridor. Other prisoners in the lockup watched the drama in stunned silence.

Jamieson, who had a record of three previous arrests, was seized earlier in an alley behind a hotel where he lived. He was charged with disorderly conduct.

Concaldi said Jamieson was wielding a bag of bricks and threatening to beat up another man. Authorities said Jamieson was registered at the hotel as "Lamar Simmons" and worked as a laborer.

Lukaszewski's father - in - law, Kenneth Gallagher, a fireman, said the young officer was a "hard luck" policeman. Gallagher said last winter, Lukaszewski was hit by a car while picking up prisoners on a city street. He was hospitalized for 10 days then.

Work Begins on Lincoln Street Paving Project

Work today was started on the Lincoln street paving project by the J. D. Ratter Construction Co. The street was blocked off from traffic along the McKinley to Denison project except at Capital street, where vehicles will be able to cross.

Today workmen started taking out sidewalks and curbs and tomorrow dirt-moving equipment will be brought in.

The street will be 30 feet wide, with bituminous surfacing, concrete curbs and gutters, and storm sewers.

Jack Morris to Open Law Office At Eldorado

Atty. Jack C. Morris of Eldorado resigned as Assistant United States district attorney, effective today, to enter the private practice of law, with offices at 1215 Locust street in Eldorado.

Morris, 31 years old, has served as an assistant U. S. attorney in the Eastern district of Illinois since October, 1954.

The St. Louis Globe-Democrat yesterday carried a front page story, with Morris' picture, which took up his work on indictments against Frank (Buster) Wortman and his chief lieutenants by the East St. Louis federal grand jury.

Morris, in the story, predicted that the indictments would be returned before the jury's term expires next January. It related that Morris declared his resignation would not affect the grand jury inquiry into Wortman's activities.

"The investigation to date has brought out a foundation of evidence to support indictments," Morris declared.

Morris has played a key role in directing the year-long grand jury investigation into Wortman's tangled affairs and St. Clair-County county gambling, the Globe-Democrat stated.

A graduate of Columbia University and George Washington University School of Law, Washington, D. C., Morris served with the Navy in World War II and as a Marine captain in the Korean War.

Solar Eruption Kicks Off IGY, International Geophysical Year

WASHINGTON (UP)—If your radio acts up today or your television set in Hartford, Conn., picks up a San Diego, Calif., program, don't worry. It's just the universe celebrating the birth of IGY.

It may be a headache to you. But the scientists think it's wonderful. IGY is the abbreviation for International Geophysical Year which officially began at 8 p. m., e. t. Sunday night.

During the Year—which actually will run until Dec. 31, 1958—some 10,000 scientists at more than 2,000 stations around the world will undertake the greatest study of the earth and its atmosphere ever conducted.

Greetings from Ike
President Eisenhower issued a special statement wishing IGY scientists of all nations "Godspeed and good luck" in their 18 month endeavors.

The disturbances which might be caused in your radio and television sets results from a huge flare-up in the sun. The solar eruption—one of the greatest ever—set off violent electrical storms Sunday and today in the magnetic agency in Virginia.

Search for More Bodies In Louisiana

By United Press

Turbulent weather pounded the plains and sections of the midwest today, and Hurricane Audrey churned a destructive path through Canada.

The known death toll blamed on Audrey and other violent storms since the hurricane hit Thursday climbed to 266 persons.

The number of dead accounted for in Hurricane Audrey's disastrous blow at the Louisiana coast rose to 246 today. Sheriff Henry Reid, announcing the official figures, said the total now is expected to reach 350 dead.

"We have confirmed that a total of 246 bodies have been recovered," Reid said at a news conference. "Of these, 182 have been processed through Shed 4 at the Lake Charles docks.

"The balance are accounted for in burials on the spot, bodies sent directly to private mortuaries and deaths in hospitals."

Elsewhere, at least 20 persons died in weather-caused mishaps, including a father and his five young children who were killed Sunday when their car veered from a highway and sank into a rain-flooded ditch near Ironton, Mo.

Two other storm drownings were reported in Missouri and Kansas, and flash floods claimed 12 lives in Indiana and Illinois.

The low pressure area that was the heart of Audrey roared through Canada with fresh violence Sunday, leaving at least four persons dead and causing more than one million dollars in damage.

Tornadoes Sunday night touched down near Liberal, Kan., and in southwest of Wichita. No injuries were reported in the twisters.

The tornadoes swirled out of thick storm clouds that deposited more than one inch of rain at Goodland and Hill City, Kan.

The torrential rains sent the Big Blue River to more than 9 feet above flood stage at Kansas City, Mo. Streets were blocked and homes and businesses were inundated Sunday before the river began receding.

Severe thunderstorms were reported from Wichita, Kan., to Ponca City, Okla., during the night, and the area was under a tornado alert until today.

Forecasters said thunderstorms will continue today in the northern and central plains and most sections west of the Rockies except California. Showers also are seen for the Middle Mississippi Valley and the Southeastern states.

Crews on the devastated coast, south of Lake Charles, speeded up their efforts to recover the bodies of the dead still in the swamps and wreckage and to bury or burn the carcasses of thousands of animals and pets.

These were causing a severe health problem, but evidently not too much of a problem to discourage the government from planning to build a big tent city at Cameron—the biggest town on the coast that Audrey hit—to house the homeless.

Since Saturday, crews on the coast had been piling up automobile tires and setting them on fire to burn the carcasses of dead animals.

A spokesman for the Federal Civil Defense Administration says the government plans to build 500 to 1,000 tents right away at Cameron.

Financial Questionnaire

Editorial — BY BRUCE BLOSSAT
If Sen. Harry Byrd of Virginia
can manage to keep politics at a
minimum, the Senate Finance Committee's new inquiry into the
nation's financial condition could
be one of the most useful congressional investigations in recent history.

To listen to Byrd, that's the way
he wants it. He predicts it will be the most sweeping look at U. S.
finances in 50 years.

The Senator says inflation is the
top problem perplexing the committee. Since 1940 the dollar has lost more than half its old purchasing power.

Byrd is especially concerned that
inflation has resumed within the
last year, even though the coun-
try is not now engaged in a war
and is not piling up fresh federal
deficits.

It would be natural to expect
the Finance Committee to inquire,
too, into the whole question of the
federal debt. Only from the on-
set of World War II has the nation
had to contend with so fantastic a burden as now plagues U. S. taxpayers.

Are we to be saddled indefinitely
with a debt in the magnitude of $75 billion dollars or more? Or is
there a real prospect that this load,
with its painfully high annual interest charges equal to the entire
budget in the so-called "heavy
spending" depression era, can be
made substantially lighter?

What real savings are possible in
nondefense operations without im-
pairing essential governmental services?

If disarmament or a broad peace
agreement were achieved, how
deep could we cut defense spending and what would the budget look
like then?

What can be said—with calm de-
tachment and without political fer-
vor—about the issue of hard vs.
easy money in its effect on purchasing power and general economic levels?

What measure can be put upon
our steeply graduated federal in-
come tax in terms of its fairness
and its effect upon the initiative
of our productive men and enterprises? Would the economy and
the nation benefit more from a less
drastic tax scale?

These would seem to be some
of the questions that any comprehensive survey of the financial condition of the United States must
confront sooner or later.

Waging Peace

Norman Cousins, editor of the
magazine Saturday Review, told
a graduating class in Vermont the
other day that Americans don't
know how to "wage peace."

It's not simply a matter of out-
smarting the Russians, he said.
We must have a clear idea how
peace is created, and this involves
"an understanding of the way relations between nations can be regu-
larized."

What Cousins says may be true
enough. But he might well have added that this is no special short-
coming of Americans. No other
people seems particularly equipped at this juncture in history to
wage peace.

He implies that waging peace is
something that could be readily
taught here and elsewhere, if only
we had the good sense and vision
to do it.

In truth the quest for lasting
peace is a painfully complex and
difficult task in this nuclear age.
What is remarkable, in the light
of America's relative inexperience
at world leadership, is not how
little we know of waging peace but
how tirelessly and earnestly we
keep searching for it in spite of the
most discouraging obstacles.

"Y'Gotta Admit We Never Had It So Good"

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

DREW PEARSON Says:
Two Millionaires Tangle Over
Inflation; Henry Morgenthau
Diaries Are Sealed. Southern
Democrats Start Paying Off
On Civil Rights Deal.

WASHINGTON. — Secretary of
the Treasury George Humphrey
made a serious tactical error at
the start of the current inflation
hearings.

National Bank of Chicago was
called in for Treasury strategy
conferences on how to combat the Senate investigation. He and Undersecretary Randy Burgess recommended that Humphrey meet
fire with fire, that he blast the
senators. Old Treasury hands advised against this, urged Humphrey not to make extravagant
claims.

He spurned their advice, sided
with Burgess and Freeman. Free-
man then wrote the long-political statement which Humphrey read
into the record claiming the fiscal
moon, the stars, and most of the
financial universe for the Eisenhower administration.

pounding Sen. Bob Kerr of Oklahoma and other Democrats were
looking for. They have been firing back, picking Humphrey's
statement full of holes ever since.

Most amusing cross-examination in years has been Kerr's
roughing up of Secretary Humphrey. Humphrey, long accustomed to begin saluted to by business tycoons, complains privately
at being cross-examined by a
two-bit millionaire from Oklahoma.

Whether Humphrey or Kerr has
more millions is a debatable
point. Humphrey's wealth is in
uranium, iron ore, paint, rayon,
steel and biscuits. Kerr's wealth
is in $100 million worth of oil and
gas lands.

The wealth of both men has
benefited from tax favors. Hum-
phrey's companies have got tremendous write-offs from Uncle
countries don't pay taxes in the U. S. A. Kerr likewise has had
healthy benefits through the 27 1/2
per cent oil depletion allowance.

Regardless of who is wealthier,
Kerr and Humphrey have been
going at each other hammer and
tongs—partly because Humphrey's
big business advisers advised him
to lead with his political chin.

IN SMOKE-FILLED ROOMS
The famed Morgenthau diaries
have been declared classified by Senators Eastland of Mississippi
and Jenner of Indiana who run the Senate Internal Security commit-
tee. Just why remains a mystery. Senators probed the Mor-genthau diaries to see if they
could find disloyalty by employees who worked for the ex-Secretary
of the Treasury, but their search
was fruitless. Now historians want
to examine the diaries. All on file
at FDR's Hyde Park library, but
the two senators say no. Arthur Schlesinger, the Harvard historian and ghost writer for Adlai Stevenson, did get a look at the diaries but he was lucky. Other
historians are banned. . . . Mor-genthau made a note of almost
everything he did from sneezes to
talks with FDR, and his 900 volumes of notes are a historian's
paradise. . . . George Allen, Ike's
golfing friend and business partner in Howard Johnson restau-
rants, refers to the new undersec-
retary of state as follows: "Chris Herter is a glass arm pitcher. Ike
was oversold on him." Those

inside the State Department, however, say Herter is doing a fine
job. He's a slow starter. But he
has increased State Department
morale as never before under Dulles; has brought back staff
conferences for the first time
since Dean Acheson's exit. . . . The White House had so much trouble
Federal Communications Commission that it's going to Commissioner Doerfer by default. About 20 people turned down this key
job which hands out million-dollar
TV permits. Retiring Chairman
McConaughy and other GOP
commissioners have plunged the
commission into too much politics. . . . Correction: In connection with the recent report of congressmen who took free trips to
the Dominican Republic and became apologists for Dictator Tru-
jillo, it should be noted that the expenses of Congressman Donald Jackson (R., Calif.) were paid by
the House Foreign Affairs committee, not by Trujillo; and that
the expenses of Congressman Pat
Kearney (R., N. Y.) were paid by Earl Christianberry, proprietor of
the Jaragua Hotel, who has close
relations with Trujillo. Neither
congressman accepted the proffered
medal from Trujillo.

Some of the deals made to block
the civil rights bill are now being
paid off.

Congressman Howard Smith of Virginia, head of the Southern
bloc, has privately warned Democratic Leader John McCormack
that he will stall for time before
letting new antitrust legislation
out of his House Rules committee
for a vote by the full House.

Smith had secretly promised to
block the pre-merger notification
bill—requiring corporations to notify the Justice Department 60
days before corporate mergers—
if Congressman Miller of New

York and the NAM would try to
water down the civil rights bill.
Congressman Smith is now paying off.

Slow Down on Fourth, Council Warns Motorists

Safety Council cautioned Fourth of July motorists that 7 out of 10 holiday traffic deaths are attributable
to speed.

In issuing a slowdown warning,
the council cited last year's holiday deaths and said speed was a
factor in 71 per cent of the 435
traffic fatalities.

Other critical factors were drinking, night driving, and driving in
rural areas.

A hopeful trend was noted by
the council, however, in that the
number of deaths were down while
travel was up.

"We hope this trend continues,
and we hope to help it through
public awareness of the extra holiday hazards," a spokesman said.

Meanwhile, the council announced that American motorists last
month cut down highway deaths
2 per cent from the same period
last year. City drivers reduced fatalities 6 per cent in May, but
records in the rural areas leveled
the overall average to 2 per cent.

The death toll, 3,110, marked
the sixth consecutive month that
motorists logged an unchanged or
better report for the corresponding
month a year ago. In May, 1956,
highway fatalities numbered 3,170.

This year's death toll, 14,360,
was 3 per cent under the 14,730
the council said.

Midway to Be Important in Warning U. S.

By PATRICK J. KILLEN
United Press Staff Correspondent
MIDWAY ISLAND — (U.P.) — This
tiny Pacific island is a bird sanctuary with a $40 million military
future.

Often described in the past as a
forlorn airstrip surrounded by
gooney birds, military strategists
have designated Midway as the
southwest anchor of the Distant
Early Warning line.

Within the next few months,
humpbacked Constellations jam-
med with a multi-million-dollar
payload of radar equipment will
begin flying daily from their Midway base to the Aleutians
and back again. Early warning
protection then will be extended
from eastern Canada, across the
continent to Alaska and southward to the North Pacific. It
will practically eliminate the possibility of a successful sneak attack over the North Pole or from Siberia.

Midway now is undergoing an
expansion program which makes
its 948 acres of coral sand some of
the most valuable real estate in
the world.

A Million Gooneys
Currently under construction are
a 10,000-foot jet aircraft runway,
parking facilities for three squad-
rons of the Navy's WV-2 air-
borne early warning Constellation
planes, a deep water channel capable of handling the largest su-
per-tankers and housing facilities
for 2,800 Navy men and depend-
ents.

The island is located in the middle of the North Pacific, 1,149
miles northwest of Honolulu and
2,792 miles west of San Francisco.
Its main population consists of
more than one million birds ranging from the gooney—a species of
albatross with an unhappy habit
of flying head-on into telephone
poles—to the wedgetailed shear-
water which likes to dig holes.

Practically abandoned after
World War II, high speed construction now has left the island
looking as if it just came through the second Battle of Midway. Dilapidated wooden shacks are being pulled down and white coral dust
from giant rock crushers clings to
the stately Australian ironwood
trees which cover about three-
quarters of the island.

"They must have just bombed
this place," a merchant seaman
said recently upon his arrival.
40 Million

The Hawaiian Dredging and Construction Company of Honolulu first began the expansion program in July, 1956. The project was originally pegged at $35 million dollars but most engineers
say it will reach 40 million dollars before its scheduled completion in July, 1958.

The 1,200 construction workers, almost all residents of Hawaii, are quartered away from the servicemen.

Life on the island is pleasant although slightly monotonous. Navy men put in a one-year tour by themselves or one year from the date their dependents arrive. An Armed Forces Radio station is in operation and a closed circuit television station is scheduled for early installation.

Considered as sea duty, most married men find Midway a paradise for their children, free from busy intersections and high speed motorists. Housing is plentiful Bachelors, noting that there are no native girls and only two single women on the island, are generally more reserved in their appreciation.

The only time morale is noticeably low is in August when the seemingly ubiquitous gooney stumbles into an awkward takeoff and goes seaward for three months.

Thinking It Over

By Robert L. Dieffenbacher, D. D.
(Written for NEA Service)

Rubbish is the extraneous material which we throw away. It
includes the wrappings from
packages, the empty containers
the old newspapers, worn-out
clothing and household items of
no more value. Many people discard this unwanted material and
keep their homes tidy. Some save
parts of the unwanted items because the parts may be handy in
the future.

A few people save portion of
the rubbish because of sentiment
or because of memories attached
to the use of materials in other
days. Some fewer persons save
just to save. Refusal to discard
almost anything has become a
habit.

MR. AND MRS. ROY STRUBINGER shown cutting their wedding cake at Metropolis. She is the former Miss Wanda Jean Williams and a former resident of Harrisburg.

Wanda Jean Williams and Roy Strubinger Exchange Vows At Church in Metropolis

Tall white tapers in branched candelabras cast a soft light over a setting of palms, ferns and baskets of white chrysanthemums, that formed the background for the wedding of Miss Wanda Jean Williams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Williams, and Roy Strubinger, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Strubinger of Metropolis. The marriage was solemnized in the First Baptist church of Metropolis at three o'clock, Saturday, June 8.

Rev. Eugene Black, former pastor of the bridegroom, now pastor of the Alhambra Methodist church of Marion, performed the double-ring ceremony in the presence of a large gathering of friends and relatives.

Mrs. Mike Hankins, organist, played nuptial music before the ceremony and the traditional processional and recessional wedding marches. Mrs. Lorene Fitch sang several selections.

The bride wore a frock of white swiss batiste, styled with a fitted torso and full skirt. A front panel was fashioned of tiny tucks and lace. Her shoulder-length veil of illusion was secured with a fitted Juliet cap. She carried a white orchid on a white Bible.

She was given in marriage by her father.

Miss Betty Tucker, close friend of the bride, served as her maid of honor and wore a full-skirted dress of white glazed cotton, embroidered and trimmed in pale pink. Her headband was of matching pink flowers and she carried a bouquet of pink carnations.

Eugene Stratmeyer acted as best man.

Paul Karber and Clark Williams were ushers and candlelighters. The bride's mother wore a lace-trimmed pink linen ensemble and white accessories. Her corsage was of white carnations.

The mother of the bridegroom chose a dress of turquoise for her son's wedding and white accessories. She wore a corsage of white carnations.

There was a reception in the lower rooms of the church immediately following the wedding service. The table was overlaid with a white cloth, and held a traditional four-tiered wedding cake, supporting a miniature bride and groom and surrounded with pink and white daisies. Pink and white was used throughout the table and room decorations.

Mrs. Rue Spore was refreshment hostess and Mrs. Pearl Frazier supervised the decorations. Mrs. Linda Monroe served the punch. Miss Priscilla Laird served the cake and Miss Judy Laird kept the guest register.

Following a short wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Strubinger will be at home to their friends at 6500 Irving Park road, Chicago, 34.

The bride is a graduate of M. C. H. S., has completed her freshman year at the University of Illinois, majoring in piano, and is a member of the First Baptist church of Metropolis.

She is the niece of Rex Cantrell of Harrisburg and both of her grandmothers are residents of Galatia. The Williams family are former residents of Harrisburg and Wanda Jean attended school here.

Mr. Strubinger has finished his freshman year at the university, studying pre-veterinary. He is a member of the Powers Methodist church, and a graduate of M. C. H. S.

J. R. Strubinger is farm advisor at Metropolis.

Mrs. Bruce (Bernice) McGuire underwent major surgery at the Lightner hospital this morning.

C. L. Bakers Return From Trip Through West

Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Baker returned from a trip through the Western States, last week. They visited with their son, David Baker, his wife, Phyllis, and their grandson, David, in Tucson, Ariz., where David is a student at the University of Arizona Electrical Engineering school.

Points of interest the Bakers visited are White Sands, the Petrified Forest, the Painted Desert, Nogales, Mexico and a Pueblo village in New Mexico. They were gone for about three weeks.

Miss Mabel Mallonee went to Chicago Saturday to visit in the home of her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Roper. During her visit the three will make a trip through the Dells of Wisconsin.

Teen Town Notes

Greetings: This column is late this month due to the fact there seemed to be all kinds of unfinished business when commencement time came around.

Teen Town has chugged right along on schedule and we had a report that the freshmen and sophomores had a real successful party at the Pent House the night of the Junior-Senior prom. Chaparones for the party were Dr. and Mrs. A. O. Steinborn, Mr. and Mrs. Vic Mitchell, Miss Bernice Patterson, Mr. and Mrs. John Schork, Hal Killebrew, Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Henson, Mrs. Bert Trammel, Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Cothran, Mr. and Mrs. Liensch, and Mrs. Herman Dunn.

Then we have to mention our car-wash money making project. It turned out fine and if there had been a prize for the hardest work or it most certainly would have gone to Mrs. Hill Lou Murphy. There sure were a lot of sun burned backs, but it was worth it. Maybe we'll do it again.

Mrs. Hill was on vacation a few days and Lou Murphy filled in faithfully. Our Senior board members and Junior board members have had at least two meetings each with good attendance.

The chaparones for May were furnished by the Junior Chamber of Commerce and the Presbyterian Guild took over for June. Thanks to all of you.

H. T. H. S. Junior at Teen Town. "Of course I seemed stupid to Miss Shestak in history; she's a college graduate."

Let me know if you hear any news. Summer gets a little dull and it's hard to always be first with the latest.

So long until next month. I'm off to find the nearest swimming hole.

See 'ya — Linda

Little Big Inch Pipeline to Be Converted to Petroleum Carrier

SHREVEPORT, La. — Texas Eastern Transmission Corporation was authorized today by the Federal Power Commission to remove a 1,168 mile segment of the Little Big Inch pipeline from natural gas service. The company will immediately reconvert the section to service as a common carrier of petroleum products, according to Orville S. Carpenter, president.

The 1,168 mile section of the Little Big Inch scheduled for reversion extends from Baytown, near Houston, Texas, through southern Illinois to Moundsville, West Virginia, and will connect with a 14-inch pipeline which the company will build from Seymour, Indiana, to Chicago. Completion of this project will establish the first major petroleum products common carrier pipeline link between the Gulf Coast and Mid-Continent refining areas and the fast growing midwestern market area.

The facility will make available new supplies of the full range of clean petroleum products including liquefied petroleum gases to the Midwestern markets from the Gulf Coast and Mid-Continent refining areas, Mr. Carpenter said. Work on the reversion project will begin immediately and is expected to be completed in time for the line to begin operation in September.

Today's ruling by the Federal Power Commission also authorized Texas Eastern to construct substitute natural gas facilities sufficient to handle the gas now being carried through the Little Big Inch. The company plans to spend approximately $35,000,000 to reconvert and extend the Little Big Inch for the transportation of petroleum products, and approximately $61,000,000 to construct substitute facilities to replace the gas capacity of the Little Big Inch line, Mr. Carpenter said.

The substitute gas facilities will involve construction of 453 miles of 30-inch pipeline loops and addition of 42,300 compressor horsepower primarily along the company's 30-inch natural gas pipeline between

Beaumont, Texas, and Uniontown, Pennsylvania. In addition, four new compressor stations will be constructed at Gillis and St. Francisville, Louisiana, Clinton, Mississippi, and Booth, Texas; and compressor horsepower at Vidon, Texas, and Holbrook, Pennsylvania, will be increased.

When the reversion program is complete, Texas Eastern will be operating approximately 1,700 miles of pipeline and 61,500 pump horsepower in petroleum products service, and some 3,800 miles of pipe and 471,660 compressor horsepower in natural gas service.

Texas Eastern's expanding system will serve a 13-state market area, comprised of Minnesota, Wisconsin, Michigan, Iowa, Arkansas, Missouri, Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, Kentucky, Tennessee, West Virginia, and western Pennsylvania. Some of these states which are not served by the Little Big Inch or the new Chicago lateral line will be served by a combination of the Little Big Inch and other facilities such as river barges, tank cars, tank trucks, and other common carrier pipelines.

Texas Eastern acquired the Little Big Inch line from the Federal government during 1947 in a transaction that also included the purchase of the Big Inch pipeline. The lines and their related facilities were purchased by Texas Eastern for $143,127,000, one of the few instances where wartime constructed facilities were sold for more than their original cost to tax payers. Upon completion of the company's presently authorized expansion programs, total assets will be in excess of three quarters of a billion dollars.

Since their purchase, both lines have been operated by the company in natural gas service. In addition, a 30-inch pipeline was built from Kosciuszko, Mississippi, to Connellsville, Pennsylvania, and later extended from Kosciuszko through southern Mississippi and Louisiana to connect with company facilities at Beaumont, Texas.

THE STORY: Nan Stanford, Dr. Kurt Lillard's fiancée, has just told Dr. Garde Shelton her story of the events that led up to the murder of Ben Laurent. Many people believe Kurt was innocent of the crime.

XIV
The men were beginning to return from the fire, noisy, disheveled and exceedingly full of stories about their bravery, the property saved. They were so noisy that the actual fact of the fire became hilarious.

Spontaneous combustion had developed in the sawdust packed bag of a sander which had that day been used upon a varnished floor. There'd been a deal of smoke, a terrific smell—and no damage beyond smudging of the hardware store. Oh, there was a tear in Dr. Ruble's shorts. He'd caught himself on a nail. And Tom Sandozie had fallen over a hose—a "pipe"—and messed himself up. Drinks were handed around, plates were refilled and the dinner resumed. Garde and Nan sat alone at their table now.

"Well, Valley was only 18. Of course she was ambitious for a career. And she had some writing ability—she used to write little plays for Sunday school programs. She plagued the newspaper here to give her a job, and the editor urged her to go to journalism school."

"She did well at journalism school—she was clever. And still is. I don't suppose you've had a chance to be with her much. . . . Then, she had this feeling about doctors. She's always hated them, really hated. She dislikes any talk about them, about illness or medicine. Why, she's almost psychopathic about it."

"What turned Valley against doctors?" he asked when they were settled. He was thinking that it might explain the breakup of her early romance with Kurt Lillard.

"It was—I think I have the term right—she was conditioned by a childhood trauma."

"Has she been professionally analyzed?"

Nan had tipped her head back and was looking at the stars. "Something Valley said to me once made me think that her editor might have sent her to a psychiatrist."

"He couldn't have got far with her, because of her antipathy for doctors."

"Well, he said it was caused by something that happened at the time of my mother's death. Maybe the whole circumstance hurt her and she fixed on this one thing."

"Attached her animosity to it?"
"Yes. Because—well, this is what happened. My mother fell out of a road cart—she was a passionate horsewoman and beautiful. Valley looks like her. Father says. Of course my mother had no business in a road cart at the time, but she did so love horses and she wanted to try a new one which her father had bought for schooling. . . . My mother used to show in the gaited harness classes, you know, and she was very good. Her father's stables—and his farm—were where the Rosses live now."

"Of course all this has been told to me. But it seems that Mother got into the cart that day to try the new horse; a paper blew across the drive and he did something horsey—people call spook. Anyway, he bolted, the cart tipped and Mother was thrown out. Her head was crushed against a stone wall, and—the doctors saved me by doing a Caesarean."

"Valley was eight and an impressionable child. No one realized it at the time, but the supposition is now—Father supposes it, anyway—that Valley saw enough, or heard enough—to believe that the doctors 'hurt' my mother."

Garde was thinking that any child seeing a Caesarian section, with its gaping wound . . . "You can be glad," he exclaimed, "that Valley fixed her animosity upon the doctors, not upon you."

The party was becoming more mobile. Dishes were being cleared away, a few couples danced to the music from the record player, a few strolled down the path to the water.

"Would you like to dance?" he asked, that being the only thing he could think of to say.

She danced nicely. Patty Copeland's young husband cut in.

Kurt Lillard would belong in this group, had belonged. And Garde was jealous of him, jealous of the man he was, of the things he had, those things all typified for Garde by the visored cap left behind in Kurt's office.

All the men here tonight—nearly all of them—belonged to the yacht club and owned such caps.

Once at a staff meeting, Ruble had mentioned Kurt's ability always to say the right thing. "Witty and clever as the deuce, but never to hurt anyone's feelings."

That was not Garde Shelton either.

Golfers who have trouble with their short game or who seldom have short game time for a regulation round may find the answer to their problems in a new "pitch, 'n' putt" course built with an eye towards helping the fellow with a poor short game. Each hole ranges from 44 to 109 yards and is par three with a regular large, bent-grass green. "There's nothing wrong with the average short game that a little homework can't cure," DeGregory said.

New Rates for State Care of Mental Patients

SPRINGFIELD (UP) — A new rate schedule for payments for the care and treatment of patients in the state's mental hospitals became effective today.

The new schedule, the first change since the payment system was set up in 1952, increases the maximum fee which may be charged from $60 a month to $81.

Under a law enacted in 1951, a mental patient's spouse, parents or children are required to contribute to his care if they are financially able.

The new rates are increased principally for persons in the higher income brackets. The Welfare Department here said the higher rates would bring in an additional $150,000 a year.

In many of the lower income brackets the new rates are lower. For example a liable relative with an income of $330 per month and with two dependents would be charged $9 per month under the new schedule. The charge under the old schedule was $18.

However, many persons with income large enough to pay the maximum charges will have their payments increased from $60 to $81.

The departments said payments now are being made for about 20 per cent of the 48,000 patients in Illinois' 11 state hospitals, with less than 10 per cent paying the maximum rate.

Shuman Calls For Return to Free Markets

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (UP) — A quarter-century of the federal government's tinkering with farm controls has resulted in a 23 per cent decline in farm income, the president of the American Farm Bureau has charged.

Charles B. Shuman, in a radio address Sunday, called for a return to free markets by "moving away from continued dependence upon an all-powerful federal government for determination of price and production patterns in agriculture."

Shuman said it is not true that the government's program of storing farm surpluses is a "good thing." He said the surpluses are a "millstone around the neck of agriculture and depress prices."

Farmers, he said, have learned three lessons from government price controls. The first is that farm prices "are not made in Washington . . . but where the consumer accepts or rejects our product."

Secondly, "You cannot control production of agricultural commodities by law."

Thirdly, products can be priced "out of the market."

Five Killed in Havana Gunfight

HAVANA (UP) — Reports of gun battles, sabotage, widespread bombings and dozens of arrests reached Havana today from throughout the nation—the rebels' answer to the government's huge "peace rally" Sunday at Santiago.

Five persons were killed and three injured in a gunfight on the outskirts of Santiago which broke out while government orators were calling on the populace to abandon violence as a political weapon.

The fight was between soldiers in a jeep and car thieves who opened fire.

Two soldiers were killed and a third wounded when the unidentified civilians opened fire. Other police gave chase and killed three of the men in the car. Two bystanders were wounded, one of them a seven-year-old boy.

Rescue Four Men Stranded on Mountain Ledge

GOLDENDALE, Wash. (UP) — Four men stranded overnight near the 10,000-foot level of towering Mt. Adams in southwest Washington were located by rescuers early today, the sheriff's office here reported.

Sheriff Ed Kaiser of Klickitat County reported to his office that two of the men were on their way out under their own power and that two others were being helped by a search party. Apparently none had been injured.

The sheriff's office said that Dave Bishop, 22, Toppenish, Wash., and Mike McGuire, 20, Yakima, Wash., had become exhausted and spent the night on a ledge. A group of searchers from Yakima located them at the 9,500-foot level.

The other two, Dr. Ralph Ober, 40, and Robert Swenson, 33, both of Yakima, were located by searchers and were on their way out by themselves, the sheriff's office said.

Senate Committee Recommends Probe of Radio-TV Networks

WASHINGTON (UP) — A Senate Commerce Committee report has recommended a sweeping congressional investigation into alleged monopolistic practices by the three major radio-television networks.

The report charged the television executives of the three networks — NBC, CBS, ABC — "in effect determine what the entire nation watches" on television.

A House antitrust subcommittee June 9 also called for a broad government investigation of the radio-TV industry for practices which it said threatened the public's right to monopoly-free airwaves.

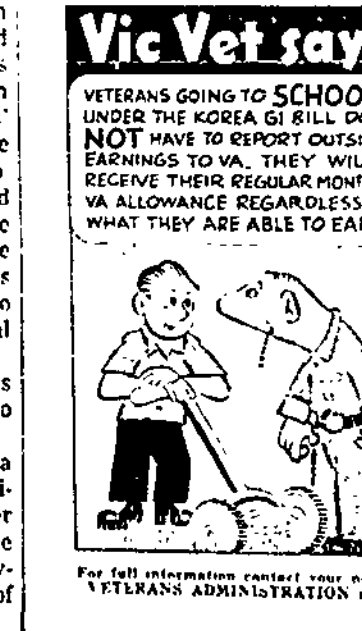

Senate Confirms Hoegh as Federal Civil Defense Administrator

WASHINGTON (UP) — The Senate today confirmed by voice vote the nomination of former Gov. Leo A. Hoegh of Iowa to be federal civil defense administrator.

Hoegh, defeated for re-election as Iowa governor last year, was nominated by President Eisenhower to succeed former Gov. Val Peterson of Nebraska as civil defense chief. Peterson has been named ambassador to Denmark.

Rites at Ridgway For Paul W. Roe

The funeral of Paul Williford Roe, 33, of Ridgway, who was fatally injured Thursday, was held at St. Joseph's Catholic church in Ridgway at 9 a. m. today. The Rev. Venegoni officiated and burial was in the church cemetery. The Cox funeral home was in charge of the arrangements and the funeral was delayed until Mrs. Annie Roe, mother of the deceased, could arrive from California.

Reserve Board Reports Business Spending, Borrowing Continues High

WASHINGTON (UP) — The Federal Reserve Board reported today that business spending and borrowing continued to set a fast pace for the booming economy in the first half of 1957.

But the board noted some important shifts in types of outlays and patterns of financing adopted recently by industry.

Spending for plant and equipment continued high, the board pointed out in its June bulletin. But the conservative trend toward lower inventories continued.

Corporate tax payments were down during the first half of the year due to the tax acceleration program adopted by the government in 1954.

The board found that across the nation's industrial base, industry was financing its growth in increasing amounts out of profits and depreciation allowances.

Business also has gone to capital markets for expansion money to such an extent that records were set for this type of borrowing in the early months of 1957.

On the other hand the board found bank borrowing was on the wane during the period, while reductions of corporate liquid assets were lower than a year ago.

The over-all growth picture, as seen by the Commerce Department and Securities and Exchange Commission, was close to the record high reached late last year and suggested a continued high level for the rest of the year.

Plan Joint Probe Into Cause of L&N Train Wreck

GUTHRIE, Ky. (UP) — The Louisville & Nashville Railroad and the Interstate Commerce Commission today planned a joint investigation into the collision between a passenger and freight train near here Saturday in which six persons were killed.

Railroad officials listed 21 persons as injured in the wreck, which occurred as a freight en route from Louisville to Memphis crashed broadside into the Chicago-to-Miami streamliner Dixieland.

The 21 injured, many of whom were vacationing, were hospitalized at half a dozen western Kentucky and Tennessee towns.

Train crewmen blamed a brake failure on the freight train for the collision, which occurred as dinner was being served on the Dixieland. The freight diesel struck the diner, ripping off one side and pinning passengers and dining stewards beneath it.

Three Die in Plane Crash

SUMNER, Ill. (UP) — Three persons, including a mother and her daughter, died in a plane crash witnessed by the husband of one of the victims.

Victims of the crash Sunday were Lee O. Fiscus, 39, Gary, Ind., the pilot; Mildred Hess, 6, and Mildred's mother, Mrs. Madelon Ridgley, 33, Sumner.

Mrs. Ridgley's husband, Estes, said the private plane plunged to earth while "coming in for a landing on a trip in Red Hill State Park near here."

Ridgley told state police the plane "seemed to hit an air pocket" while approaching the landing strip.

Fiscus and the Hess girl died instantly. Mrs. Ridgley died a short time later in Richland County Hospital in nearby Olney.

Boy Struck by Lightning Brought to Life by Blows on Chest

NEWTON, Mass. (UP) — A 15-year-old boy struck by lightning today after he was apparently brought back to life by two blows on the chest.

James Rooney was hit by a bolt of lightning Sunday as he worked as a caddy at the Charles River Country Club. Four others were knocked flat by the bolt including Dr. Albert S. Murphy of Brookline one of the golfing party.

Dies of Injuries

ST. CHARLES, Ill. (UP) — John Dunmore, Sycamore High School athlete and last year a freshman at Carroll College, died at a hospital here Sunday night of neck injuries suffered when he was water skiing on Friday.

Killed by Train

GLEN ELLYN, Ill. (UP) — Ed ward Horan, 59, was killed early today when his car was struck by a Chicago & North Western locomotive.

Witnesses said Horan drove around a lowered crossing gate.

State Capital Celebrates Anniversaries

SPRINGFIELD (UP) — Mayors from more than 20 other Illinois cities were on hand today to help Springfield celebrate its 125th anniversary as a city and 120th anniversary as Illinois' state capital.

Today was "Neighbors Day" in the week-long "Capitemial" celebration which will include parades, a beard growing contest, fireworks displays and a "Cabin to Capitol" pageant with more than 1,000 actors.

The observance started Sunday with "Religious Heritage Day" and the annual pilgrimage of Boy Scouts to Abraham Lincoln's tomb here.

The gifts they gave each other to mark the event were not announced. But they had one gift for each other that they cared not who knew about: Bubbling good humor and laughter.

They showed it plainly Sunday evening when they helped this town mark its own great anniversary: The epic Civil War battle of Gettysburg.

The President and First Lady, each grinning gaily, posed briefly arm-in-arm for photographers before taking front-row seats at a ceremony marking the 94th anniversary of Gen. Robert E. Lee's heroic but unsuccessful attempt to crack the Union armies on the fields bordering the Eisenhowers' farm.

The Eisenhowers blushing a little, stood and waved happily to their neighbors and the roar of applause.

Ike and Mamie Quietly Observe 41st Anniversary

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (UP) — President and Mrs. Eisenhower today celebrated their 41st wedding anniversary.

And they celebrated it quietly at home — the home they always wanted — with only a few old friends on hand.

The gifts they gave each other to mark the event were not announced. But they had one gift for each other that they cared not who knew about: Bubbling good humor and laughter.

They showed it plainly Sunday evening when they helped this town mark its own great anniversary: The epic Civil War battle of Gettysburg.

The President and First Lady, each grinning gaily, posed briefly arm-in-arm for photographers before taking front-row seats at a ceremony marking the 94th anniversary of Gen. Robert E. Lee's heroic but unsuccessful attempt to crack the Union armies on the fields bordering the Eisenhowers' farm.

Gettysburg Mayor William G. Weaver asked the 1,500 townspeople crammed in the high school auditorium to "give the bride and groom of 4 years a rousing cheer."

The Eisenhowers blushing a little, stood and waved happily to their neighbors and the roar of applause.

Illinois Amvets Elect Officers

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (UP) — New officers of the Illinois Amvets assumed their posts today with D. Arthur Connelly of Chicago as state commander.

Connelly, an assistant U. S. attorney, defeated Clarence Newlin, North Pekin, in the elections held Sunday at the close of a three-day meeting. Last year's commander was Nicholas Marchuk, Peoria.

Other officers elected were: George Albee, Rockford, senior vice commander; Florence Down, Chicago, vice commander at large; Bruce Richards, Chicago, judge advocate; and Steve Hanna, Chicago, provost marshal.

The new president of the auxiliary is Mrs. Margaret Schupp of Chicago.

The delegates chose Rockford as the site for the 1958 meeting.

CONSTIPATED?

New laxative discovery un-locks bowel blocks without gag, bloot or gripe

Constipation is caused by what doctors call a "thrifty" colon that, instead of retaining moisture as it should, does the opposite: robs the colon of so much moisture that its contents become dehydrated, so dry that they block the bowel; so shrunken that they fail to excite or stimulate the urge to purge that propels and expels waste from your body.

To regain normal regularity, the dry, shrunken, constipating contents of your colon which now block your bowel must be re-moistened. Second, bowel must be brought to your colon to action; to a normal urge to purge.

And, of all laxatives, only COLONAM, the amazing new laxative discovery possesses COLONAM's great moisturizing capacity, plus COLONAM's stretch-stimulating bulk. So effective, it relieves even chronic constipation overnight, COLONAM is yet so smooth, so gentle it has proved safe even for women in critical stages of pregnancy.

Superior to old style bulk, salt or drug laxatives, COLONAM neither gags, bloats nor gripes; won't interfere with absorption of vitamins and other valuable food nutrients; in clinical tests, did not cause rash or other reactions.

It's a physiological fact: Exercise tones your body! And COLONAM exercises your colon to tone it against constipation, overnight! Get COLONAM, in easy-to-take tablet form at any drug counter, today! Only 98c for the 60 tablet package, brings positive relief at less than 2c per tablet.

National League Batters to Carry 'Big Stick' Into All-Star Game

NEW YORK (AP) — The National League All-Stars, who have clobbered their American League rivals six times in the last seven years, once again will carry "a big stick" into next Tuesday's mid-season classic at St. Louis.

The aggregate batting average of the eight NL starters was .308 following week-end games, while the men who will play at least the first three innings for the AL are hitting at a .293 clip.

In addition, the National League squad is leading their rivals in total hits (663-550), home runs (91-80) and runs-batted-in (334-269).

Here are the individual batting averages of the All-Star Game starters, exclusive of the pitchers who will be selected by managers Casey Stengel of the Yankees and Walt Alston of the Dodgers this week:

American League: Catcher Yogi Berra, Yankees, .226; first baseman Vic Wertz, Indians, .305; second baseman Nellie Fox, White Sox, .325; shortstop Harvey Kuenn, Tigers, .256; third baseman George Kell, Orioles, .282; left fielder Ted Williams, Red Sox, .362; center fielder Mickey Mantle, Yankees, .285.

Harry (Suitcase) Simpson, acquired in the June 15 deal with Kansas City, delivered a two-run pinch double in the eighth inning to give the Yankees their opening game triumph after ex-Yank Ralph Terry pitched no-hit ball for 7 1-3 innings.

Larsen hurled a brilliant four-hitter to compete the double-header sweep and gain his first victory as a starter since his historic World Series perfect game against the Brooklyn Dodgers.

To cap the day, Roy Sievers walked a two-run 10th-inning homer to give the Washington Senators an 11-9 victory that knocked the Chicago White Sox out of a share of first place with the Yankees. The White Sox had rallied for four runs in the ninth inning to win the opener, 7-6.

VFW Defeats Springerton Tigers, 22 to 2

The Harrisburg VFW baseball team won a one-sided game from the Springerton Tigers Saturday night by the score of 22-2 at the VFW park.

The locals clubbed out 19 hits with Dick Odle leading the way with 4 for 4. Don Stout had 3 for 5 and Miller, Wallace, Romanosky, Dallas and McNew had 2 hits each. Griffiths and Emery picked up the other hits.

Big Bill McNew pitched his second good game in a row as his fast ball was blistering fast and his curve was working to perfection. Don Wallace and Rod Smith made nice running catches for the best fielding plays of the game.

Wednesday night the locals will travel to Mt. Vernon, Ind., for an all-league contest and Thursday will play the Murphysboro Red Wings there on Riverside park diamond. The locals will leave from the VFW field at 5 p. m. Wednesday for the Mt. Vernon game.

Musial, Mays and Aaron were named to the NL starting team by Commissioner Ford Frick after Cincinnati fans "elected" seven members of the Redlegs with a late-hour deluge of votes.

Center fielder Gus Bell and right fielder Wally Post were the starting lineup absentees, even though they were top vote-getters for their respective positions. Musial was named by Frick because it was originally believed that Redleg George Crowe had won the fans' votes for the first base position.

Downstate Fisherman's Guide

Bass Fishing on Upswing at Crab Orchard, Decline at Little Grassy

By Pete Brown

(From reports by the Southern Illinois University Cooperative Fisheries Research Laboratory and the Illinois Department of Conservation.)

A few bass have crossed the docks of Crab Orchard Lake Concessionaire Cecil Davis in the past week, sparking small fires of hope here and there that good fishing is not far off.

Water conditions at Crab Orchard are still far from satisfactory, but bass activity appears to be on the upswing. One fisherman landed 12 in two trips, and although none of them went over two and one-half pounds the catch rated lots of dockside attention.

Plugging for bass at Little Grassy went into a steep decline during the week of June 24, but bluegill and crappie fishing picked up. Dave Whiteside, a Wolf Lake angler, nailed a one and one-quarter pound bluegill on a dry fly, one of the largest—if not the largest—ever to come out of the lake. It was a shade over 10 inches long and nearly 11 inches in girth.

Before the sudden slowdown, memorable bass catches were recorded at Grassy. Ed Holton, East St. Louis sporting goods retailer, boated eight, seven and four pounders. Frank Kneig, of Herrin, caught a seven and one-half pounder and Joe Fedora, Granite City, strung up a six and three-quarter pounder and another at five and one-half pounds.

Others with four to six pound catches were Ralph Vorhees, and Al Pelthmann, Carbondale; Biford Dalton, East St. Louis; Bill Butler, Murphysboro; Charles and Fred Oliver, Murphysboro; Weli Atley, Belleville; Leon Orr, West Frankfort; and Ken Miller, East St. Louis.

Three artificials have been most effective at Grassy: Bombers, Black Eels, and the Doll Fly, a leadhead-type bait. A Doll Fly-Black Eel combination has also been used to advantage.

Water was still going over the Horseshoe Lake spillway when checked June 23, but good crappie and bluegill angling is expected when the runoff stops.

Catches of bluegill and redear at Lake Murphysboro have thinned out compared to previous weeks. The best catches are being made in the evening, with worms.

fisherman picked up a pair of four pound channel cats as well as five others ranging from eight to 11 and one-half pounds.

Bass poppers and artificial red worms have accounted for some fair results at Lake Moses where the latest catch, a five pounder, was notched by Benton's Bill Ray. Crappie fishing has been very good.

Sahara Lake is still in a mild slump and the bluegill taken are running small. The water is clear, and looks good.

Bay Creek, checked June 23 at Grantsburg on Route 146, is muddy. Two fishermen on the scene had caught four yellow bullheads averaging 10 inches.

A few small drum and channel

catfish were being taken from the river near the Golconda locks. Lusk Creek north of Golconda was yielding good bluegill and crappie catches. Water at both locations, when checked June 23, was receding and muddy. Lusk was clearing farther upstream near Eddyville.

The Mississippi River is still high and muddy near Grand Tower, but the Big Muddy north of Grand Tower is in excellent condition. Clear and Hotchkins creeks are almost too clear for successful angling.

The Carbondale city reservoir is slowly losing its rich cast of mud, and a few bass plungers have been off the dam. The water has proven pretty hot for the benefit of those wanting to go after the big ones in Carbondale reservoir is the L and S Panfish Master. For best action, retrieve it at medium-fast speed.

Farmers May Preserve Corn History for Future Allotment Programs

Corn producers who have under planted their allotment were reminded by Herman Driskell, chairman of the Saline County ASC committee that they may receive credit as planting their full acreage allotment by filing a request with the county office. This will retain the past corn history of the farm for future allotments programs. Mr. Driskell pointed out that the request must be made by filing form MQ-31 with the local on or before August 1, 1957.

Although there is no harm in any corn producer signing this form, it is really of benefit only to those with farms on which the full corn acreage allotments have not been planted.

Farmers generally are being advised of this provision by the reporter at the time of corn measurement, Mr. Driskell said. However, all producers should feel free to

Col. Nickerson Vows to Fight for Army Missiles

HUNTSVILLE, Ala. (UP)—Col. John C. Nickerson, stripped of his top-secret security clearance, vowed through "official" channels and today he will continue his fight some day regain his status as a rocket expert.

Nickerson, convicted of leaking top secret missile data, drew a call at the county office prior to August 1, to execute the required form.

Wheat Acreage Reserve Payments To Be Made Soon

The Saline County ASC office has announced that it will start making 1957 wheat acreage reserve payments on July 15.

Herman Driskell, chairman of the county ASC committee, said that payments will generally be made by mail as soon as possible after performance in the field and in the office is completed on individual agreements. This means that the first farms to receive payments will be those where crops were far enough advanced to permit early checking, where no excess allotment crop acreage was found, and where all requirements as to location and use of the soil bank acres had been fully met.

Making payments will continue as rapidly as performance records can be completed and farmers make any adjustments which are necessary to meet the terms of their agreements.

Payments on corn acreage reserve agreements will not start until a later date. No date has been set for making conservation reserve payments, but as soon as compliance reports can be completed the date will be announced.
